Introduction – EUFORES

EUFORES is the European parliamentary network for renewable energy and energy efficiency with members from all major political groups in the European Parliament as well as in the EU 28 national Parliaments.

EUFORES promotes the deployment of renewable energy and energy efficiency within Europe. Therefore, it organises events and conferences to offer Parliamentarians and other key-players the opportunity to exchange their views. The annual Inter-Parliamentary Meeting is EUFORES' largest event with usually 100-120 Members of Parliaments from all over Europe.

Parliamentarians are key actors when it comes to drafting legislation for renewable energy and energy efficiency, which is crucial for developing an effective and stable legislative framework for market development in those sectors.

18th Inter-Parliamentary Meeting on Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency (IPM18)

When: 19 – 20 October 2018

Venue: Palais Auersperg (next to Parliament of Austria, which is closed due to refurbishment), Vienna, Austria

Duration: 1,5 day conference

Participants: Members of the European Parliament, Members of Parliaments of the EU28, parliamentary civil servants, government representatives, EUFORES non-parliamentary members, selected high level experts, 150-180 participants.

Information: IPM18 is organised in close cooperation with the incoming Austrian Presidency of the European Council and with the Parliament of Austria, which naturally makes it a high-level political event. As Austria takes over the Council Presidency on the 1st of July 2018 and will play a crucial role in concluding the "Clean Energy for all Europeans" package, this parliamentary conference hopes to contribute to better and stable legislative frameworks anchored in this crucial package. Therefore, the legislative proposals covered under the Clean Energy package will be top of the agenda of the 18th Inter-Parliamentary Meeting.

The Inter-Parliamentary Meeting attracts Members of Parliament from all over Europe as well as core members of the EUFORES network. The first conference day focuses on renewable energy sources and related topics and the second conference day discusses energy efficiency. At this high-level meeting, top speakers from the Austrian Parliament, the European Parliament, national governments, the European Commission, industry representatives and many other experts will gather to discuss renewable energy and energy efficiency in the light of the Clean Energy Package.

The conference offers excellent networking opportunities throughout the conference, as well as during a welcome reception on the night before the conference starts, a gala dinner held on the first conference day and a site-visit on the second conference day.

Why sponsor the IPM18?

- High visibility among policy-makers and especially Parliamentarians from all over Europe
- Extraordinary access to Parliamentarians from all over Europe
- Being part of the discussion and having the chance to influence Europe's energy future
- Networking opportunity to get into contact and discuss the potentials and needs of your sector with national and European Parliamentarians
- Building up company's profile among key-decision makers

The 18th Inter-Parliamentary Meeting is upon invitation only. Just a few carefully selected additional stakeholders are invited. Therefore, these sponsorship packages offer you a rare opportunity to participate in the IPM and engage in the discussion on the topics that matter to you.

Supporting Members of EUFORES receive reduced sponsorship fees. Also, reduced fees can be discussed if more than one sponsorship package is chosen at the same time.

Stand out from the rest! Do not miss this great opportunity and become a sponsor of the leading parliamentary network in renewable energy and energy efficiency in Europe!
